The Links at Gettysburg

The Links at Gettysburg is a '4 ½ Star' rated facility by Golf Digest. The European-style links course features daunting elevated tee boxes with slender, precise landing areas. It plays 7,069 yards from the tips with a 74.1 rating and 144 slope and is accessible to players of all skills levels with four additional tee areas. With 14 lakes and streams and red-rock canyons and formations, The Links at Gettysburg provides outdoor enthusiasts with spectacular views of wildlife and its habitat, making it an ideal home for the foundation's annual tournament.

Wildlife For Everyone Endowment Foundation Funds Seedlings For Schools:

Last year, more than 170,000 seedlings were distributed to students across Pennsylvania through the Pennsylvania Game Commission's 'Seedlings For Schools' program. By participating in the program, students receive instruction from teachers on trees and their impact on wildlife habitat and gain valuable hands-on experience planting seedlings and observing their development.

Since the program's inception in 2008, more than 1,000,000 seedlings have been dispersed from the Pennsylvania Game Commission's Howard Nursery in Centre County. The Wildlife For Everyone Endowment Foundation covers all shipping and handling costs for the program.

Enrollment in 'Seedlings For Schools' is open to all PreK-12 schools in Pennsylvania. Any teacher can request seedlings and educational packets at no cost. Orders are generally taken in late February and early March with seedlings typically delivered by the end of April.
